

Latin American & Caribbean Law Review Submission Guidelines

FIU Latin American and Caribbean Law Review (“LCLR”) Submission Criteria:

LCLR invites the submission of manuscripts on topics of interest to the legal community relating to Latin America, the Caribbean, and/or affecting the Latin American or Caribbean communities.

To submit an article for consideration, please submit your manuscript along with a cover letter, abstract, or author CV via Scholastica.

Authors need not be professors, students, or otherwise in academia unless submitting formal legal analysis.

LCLR accepts submissions year-round on a rolling basis until all publication spots are filled. LCLR does not accept submissions by mail; submissions must be submitted via Scholastica.

Submission Criteria:

- Articles are not precluded based on pre-set length or topic limitations.
- All text should be double spaced.
- Manuscripts should be formatted in Microsoft Word 2011 or later in .docx format.
- Footnotes should be single spaced and conform to The Bluebook: A Uniform Style of Citation.
- Text should conform to The Chicago Manual of Style.
- If submitting an article in a foreign language, an English translation must be included.

LCLR retains the right to determine the final form of every article. LCLR acknowledges the receipt of submitted manuscripts and assumes no responsibility for the return of submissions.
